Difficult Task for Candidate to Please Both Roosevelt and Barnes in Oratory.

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 9 .- Republican criticism of the Wilson administration was reviewed by Vice President Marshall in a speech here today, with the conclusions that the main reason offered the country for turning out the democrats was the desire of the republicans to get in, and that former Justice Hughes' campaign speeches were but echoes of oftenheard partisan orations in the sen-

The candidate is really to be more commiserated than criticized. been my fortune or misfortune to hear the speeches made in the senate. The republican candidate is now repeating these speeches in abbreviated Open Air Mass Meetings in Public form from the stump.

When the candidate announced the infallibility of the protective tariff, I recognized the oft-expressed views of Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire. When he declared that we were dwelling in a fool's paradise, I heard an echo of the voice of Reed Smoot of I could shut my eyes and see before me the figure of Senator Fall. When condemned 'pork' in connection with the rivers and harbors bill, I tasted again in homeopathic doses the speeches, weary hours long, of former Senator Burton of Ohio. And when the candidate assaulted the civil service record of the administration. I realized that he had heard from that political purist, Boise Penrose of Pennsylvania. "But in the speeches I have found nothing that ever fell from the lips of such senators as Cummins, Kenyon, LaFollette, Clapp, Norris or Gronna. The candidates' inspiration springs from the speeches of Penrose, Gallinger, Smoot, Fall-senators of the #### standpat wing of the party. Voter Must Make Choice.

"The voter must decide whether he wants to turn all the important committees of the senate over to men who were brought up in the Aldrich school of statesmanship and are wedded to its policies.

"Up to this time, reasons why democrats should be put out of power are left to the imagination. The main reason seems to be that the republicans just want control again. The country is satisfied with trade conditions and with business, which is unprecedentedly large; the people are satisfied With the record of achievements, which includes more remedial legislation than was ever written by any two administrations; our opponents fail to promise anything in the way of repeal or substitutes.

"For purely partisan purposes the republican orators are proclaiming that the president is an infirm American and that Americanism and republicanism are synonymous. But the people at large realize that American citizenship is made up of only two grades of citizens. Citizen of the first grade asks, 'What can I do for my country? while citizen of the second grade asks, 'What can I get my country to do for me?"

"Our people are becoming more and more convinced of the genuine purpose of our president to maintain a strict neutrality and an honorable Peace. The hyphenated citizens have been distillusionized."
